Copy & Camera Technologies Systems Engineer, Paul LaCombe, recently achieved Certification through the Canon U.S.A. Association of Technical Service Professionals (ATSP). ATSP enables Canon Authorized dealership personnel to differentiate themselves and their organization from competitors in the marketplace. Through ATSP Certification, Canon Authorized service professionals can verify their level of Canon product service and support skill and distinguish themselves from other individuals and imaging solutions providers.

Employee of the Year

Account Executive Sandy Swearingen was named "2015 Employee of the Year." This award is voted on by all employees for going above and beyond.
